

MY HERITAGE STORY

By Rahab Molepo

TABLE OF CONTENTS

• Introduction	01
• My heritage roots	02
• Family stories & traditions	03
• Personal Journey & milestones	04
• My future aspirations	05
• Conclusion	06

WHO I AM

My heritage and roots

The Bapedi tribe (also known as Pedi and Basotho) arose from small chiefdoms that were formed before the 17th century. They were defeated in the 19th century by the armies of Mzilikazi, the king who founded the Matabele kingdom. They were then revived by Pedi chief Sekweti.

MY PERSONAL JOURNEY & MILESTONES

Born and breed in a small township of Daveyton where I did my primary schooling and moved to Tsakane to finish with my secondary schooling where I did my matric

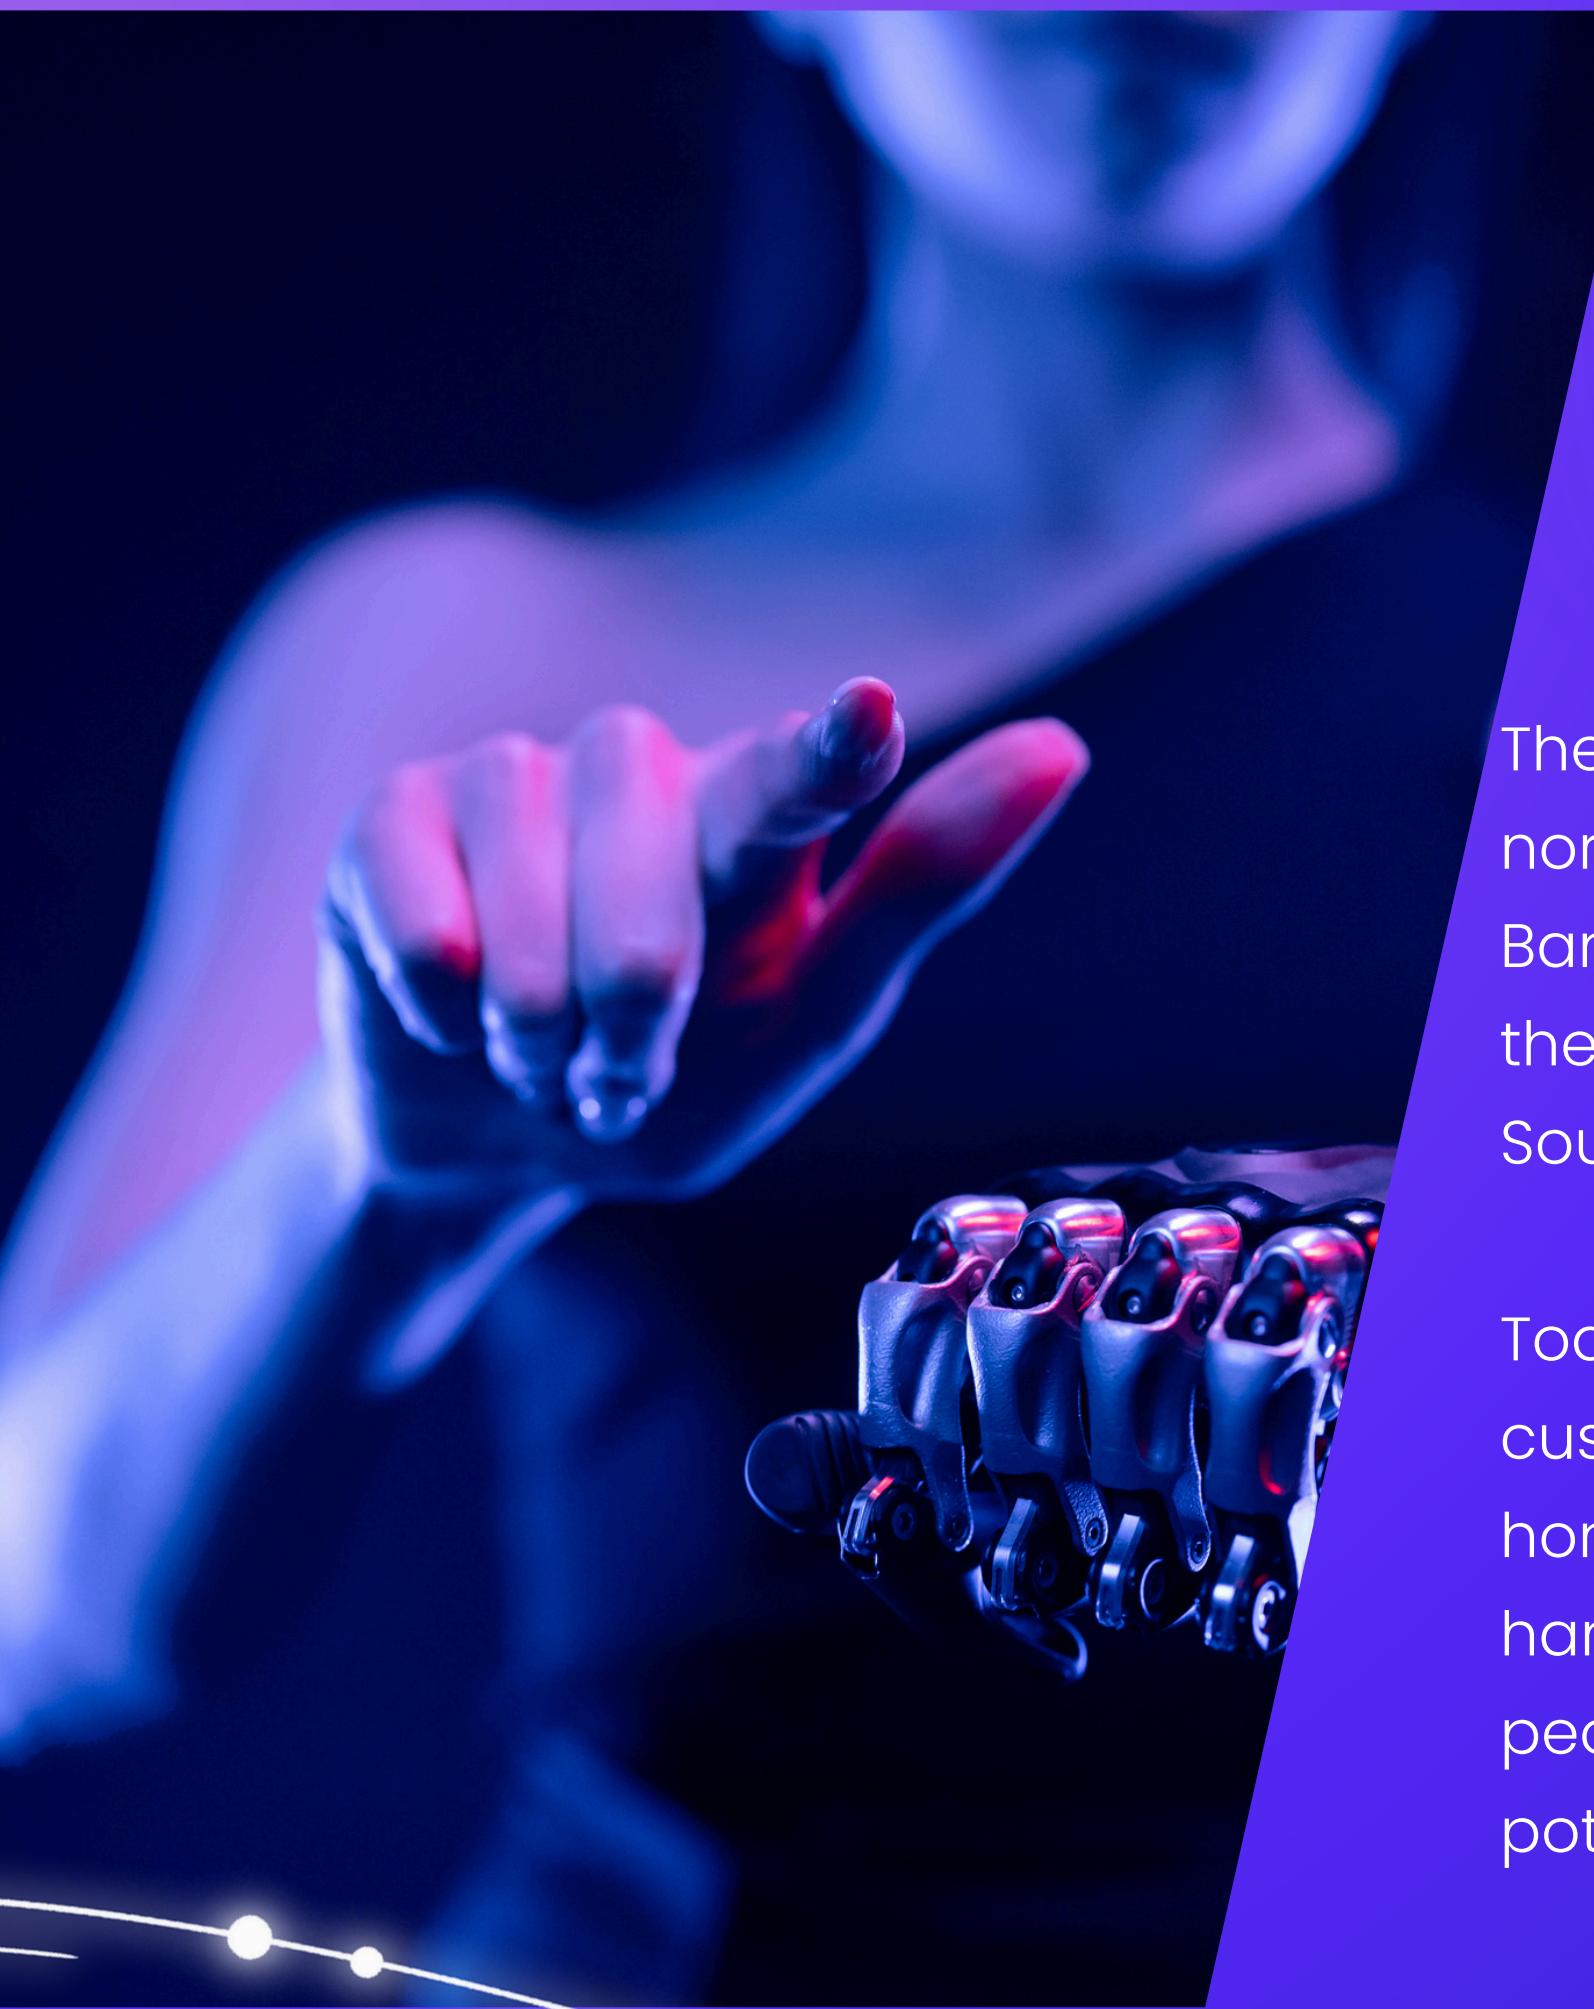

Started college 2015 doing mechanical engineering and became a qualified HVAC technician

Now I am switching tech where I am learning to be a front end developer through SheCodes

And now I am part of Alx group

FAMILY STORIES AND TRADITIONS

They are primarily situated in Limpopo, Gauteng and northern Mpumalanga. The Pedi people are part of the Bantu ethnic group. Their common ancestors, along with the Sotho and Tswana, migrated from East Africa to South Africa no later than the 7th century CE.

Today, the Pedi people still practice many traditional customs, such as regular community meetings, honoring ancestors through ritual offerings, and unique handicrafts. Some of the most popular crafts of the Pedi people include brightly colored baskets and spoons, pottery, and traditional masks.

MY FUTURE ASPIRATIONS

01

- I would like to see myself as a senior developer in one of the big companies in the world.